DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT,

MARTIN VAN BUREN.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

RICHARD M. JOHNSON.

FROM WASHINGTON.

STENOGRAPHIC GLIMPSES OF CONGRESS.

Washington, Feb. 4.

The House passed a civil Appropriation Bill to day after debating some days upon "Mileage," and the inequality of the pay of members; some have no travel worth mentioning, and they envy the advantage of others who can travel 200 miles a day by Steamboat, and get blown up like Senator Johnson, of La. Let them go to the extremity of the Union and get their travel. "Is the pay enough for those who cannot add much to their per deim by travel?" this is the question. As the facility of travelling has greatly improved, perhaps some change might be made touching mileage; but in attempting retrenchment, will it not, as in all similar cases, result in an increase of the evil? But I will not argue this question for nothing; but leave it to those who have their $8 per diem and mileage—and little enough too, in all conscience, for any man who is fit for a Representative of the people; and those who are not, ought to have into the bargain, a suit of tar (it will encourage a staple of Southern Commerce) and feathers, (it will patronise the old Whig geese whose gabbling would have saved the Bank Capital,) had it not had a more powerful foe than any that ever sacked Rome or assaulted it!

In Senate Mr Leigh made a Report and reported a Bill for the suppression of Abolition arson, which underwent five readings—that is to say, he and the Clerk spelled each other so many times, the report hung fire so long. I give this information to the public, that they may appoint a Committee of five at least, if they ever wish this long legend read. Mr Leigh certainly uses up more fools-cap than any man in the Senate; and though he has some good ideas, he buries them in a sand-storm of words, like a caravan of the desert. The Bill, I believe—though I should not like to swear to it—provides for making the mail carriers and mail robbers the censors of the press and expurgators of the mails. I hope these worthies wont quarrel about the spoils. I don't think the expedient will flourish North of Mason's and Dixon's line—it is a sensitive plant that was never indigenous to New England and can never be naturalized there. But let this pass—I can't stop to lecture on political botany.

Mr Clayton delivered a "whole hog" administration speech on Col. Benton's Resolutions! How sheepish it must make Mr Southard feel; and how "salt-riverish" it made Mr Crittenden look! Clayton rowed right afoul of his boat, and swampt it! How the "White-Hallers" did grin—a ghastly smile! Every body was astonished at Mr Clayton's somersault. I observed several opposition ladies and gentlemen leave the galleries after he had gone too far to retreat, and far enough to make them retreat.—Is Nick, the elder, entered into the Whig herd? Why, I am afraid they will all follow the gentleman into the Delaware!—not, I hope, to be devoured, but, I trust, to be cleansed of their political sins.

Mr Clayton said he would not only appropriate the surplus, but the whole Revenue of the country for its defence, if necessary. He believed France had been benefited by the treaty. She required explanation; General Jackson would not explain, and he would stand by him—it would be to surrender the independence of the government. He conscienciously believed the President's position right. A mediation is proposed; do you believe there is a mediator on earth, that could induce Gen. Jackson to apologize? No! He should not attack the administration, unless to defend himself, &c.

He then went into an inquiry about the "Lost Bill" of the last session, defended Mr Webster's "Capitol" sentiment, and finished with discharging a blunderbuss against the Ex-President, which every body suspected Mr Webster had loaded, but did not dare fire himself! He puled about ingratitude for political honors. Did he allude to Mr Adams's being made President by and of the Whigs?—it is the only stain upon his escutcheon! In vain can any assault upon HIM, heal the wound he recently inflicted (by "one step farther,") upon the scrupulous patriot, or extract the arrow:—

Hærit lateri lethalis arundo—
The fatal shaft still quivers in his side!

REIS EFFENDI.

BRITISH COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, LONDON.

IT has become a duty to acquaint the public that the genuine Improved Hygeian Vegetable Pills which are prescribed in accordance with the doctrines of the british College of Physicians and Surgeons, London, and which are recommended by the writings and practice of Sir Astley Cooper, Mr Abernethy, and the most eminent Physicians and Practitioners of Europe and America, are signed on the outer cover of every package, in the followiug lawful and particular manner:

JOSEPH RALPH, M. D.—GRADUATE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF EDINBURGH;—MEMBER OF THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF SURGEONS, LONDON;—LECTURER ON MIDWIFRY AND THE DISEASES OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN;—AND AUTHOR OF THE "FAMILY PHYSICIAN, A DOMESTIC GUIDE TO MEDICINE."

(Note. The various documentt, Diplomas and stamped Certificates, which show the connection of the Author with the Institutionsabove mentioned are publicly exhibited at the General Office, Cortland street, N. Y. and may be seen by anh individual at any time.)

Nothing seems to have afforded more general satisfaction and advantage to society, than having the Hygeian Medicine prescribed and prepared by a regular and practical physician, and one who may at all times be consulted or appealed to, either by post or otherwise, on the subject of its operation and disease. This also is the more appreciated in consequence of the number of different medicines which are daily advertised under various pretences in the name of "Hygeian" and "original Hygeian."

The directions which accompany every package of this Domestic Medicine, are exceedingly plain and particular,—the proper dose and management of the Pills being carefully given under the head of each disorder separately. Those who keep this medicine by them, especially country families, find that nothing is more economical or better adapted for family use, and being free from mercury or any hurtful property, they may always be resorted to with perfect safety. Neither is it too much to state with strict regard to truth, that thousands are indebted to this medicine for the preservation of life and ealth.h

The connection which exists between the organs of digestion and almost all deseases, being the basis of this Domestic Medicine, there is scarcely a disorder incident to human nature in which they are not taken advantageously, but those disorders in which the most remarkable instances of benefit and cures have been experienced are the following:—Bilious disorders, Dyspepsia, affections of the head and nervous complaints, with all those various disorders which originate in hot climates or from costive bowels. Also, Fevers, Inflammation, Gout, Rheumatism, Cutaneous Diseases, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Scrophula, Coughs which threaten Consumption, and especially Gravel, Gleet, and other weaknesses in the Urinary and Geintal organs.

This Medicine also, in a peculiar manner, is adapted to the disorders of the female constitution, both in early and more advanced periods of life.

ROWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

THIS high repute and extensive sale of Rowland's Macassar Oil, throughout the world, has induced speculators to imitate the label—even to forgery, and impose upon the public base imitations, instead of the original.

Also, adventurers to gain a trifle more profit, have introduced into the United States counterfeit imitations, composed of deleterious ingredients, injurious to the hair, to the serious injury of the proprietors and the public.

To prevent such imposition, A. Rowland & Son, respectfully solicit particular attention on purchasing the original Macassar Oil; each bottle is enclosed with a treatise on the hair in an envelope, tastfully executed, with the names of his agents on each pamphlet.

The signature and address is red, on a pattern of lace work, similar to a banker's cheque.

"A Rowland & Son, 20 Hatton Garden,"—countersigned "Alex. Rowland." Also, each bottle has the name and address of the Agent on the label, Mr J. A. DICKSON, Music Saloon, Cornhill, formerly Market street, Boston.

☞ Particular attention to this caution is necessary, as the proprietors cannot be responsible for the serious injury resulting from the use of base imitations.

This Oil is the original and genuine, which has been for many years universally admired, and acknowledged superior to all others. It possesses wonderful properties in restoring the hair on parts of the head that were previously bald, proved by testimonials received from the most distinguished personages in all parts of the globe, and prevents the hair from falling off, or turning gray, to the latest period of life; generates with infancy ample growth of beautiful hair, and will sustain it in perfection through all stages of existence.

Subduing all relaxing tendencies, it firmly keeps the hair in curl and other decorative formation, during many hours, unimpaired by damp weather, crowded assemblies, the dance, or even equestrian exercise.

This incomparable Oil is the friend of both sexes; for, while it facilitates the progres of female beauty, it enhances, by producing whiskers, mustachios, &c. the graces of manhood.

☞ Prices reduced to 62½ cents per single bottle, or in packages of 6 bottles each, for $3 per package,

LAW OF LIBEL.

The Franklin (Greenfield) Mercury has two columns, of an attempted refutation of our arguments against the Judge law of libel. The article which we published on the 4th instant overthrows most of its positions, and it is needless to repeat the arguments here. The Mercury commences by portraying a list of imaginary evils that must result to the public if our view of the subject be correct, and this is offered as evidence against us and our law, in the following words:—

"It will readily be perceived that the construction of the Post, if it be the correct one, is likely to involve the worst moral and social evils. If this construction be established, it will follow by the Post's own admission, that the grossest blasphemies, the most licentious ideas, and the most revolting pictures may be exhibited through the press without the fear or possibility of punishment; and the private and public libeller and the corrupter of public morals, may pursue their several occupations in the face of day, without let or hindrance. Our laws would present this singular inconsistency, that while obscene or blasphemous language would remain liable to punishment, the same expressions circulated in print, and thus extending a much wider mischief, and implying, too, a more deliberate premeditated wickedness, would be tolerated and sanctioned; and while the man who falsely and maliciously blackened his neighbor's character in conversation, would be liable in damages, the same man doing the same thing through the press, might defy responsibility."

We deny the assumption, that our "construction of the law involves the worst of social and moral evils," or any evils at all. And if evils were to flow from the law, as we construe it, that has nothing to do with the construction of a sentence of plain English. We are to take the meaning of the constitution according to its obvious import. We should construe it by our intelligence and not by our fears. The framers of the constitution placed safeguards enough around the protestant christian religion, they intended to protect and spread, without adding to its defence the rack and the faggot. They enjoined upon the legislature to compel towns to support at their own expense, public protestant teachers of piety and morality: they secured the executive and legislative branches of the government by a test oath, to christians, and as these officers created the judiciary and appointed the judges, all branches of the civil government were, in effect, secured to christians. Here they stopped, in that course; but on the other hand, they secured the unrestrained rights of conscience and the unrestrained liberty of the press. And under the constitution which they framed, and bequeathed to us, there can be no such crimes as those of blasphemy and libel, either written, published or spoken. The generation which succeeded that of 1780, who framed our constitution, have grown more liberal than their fathers; and in 1820, when they amended that constitution, they abolished the test oath. Still more recently, the people have abolished the compulsory support of the clergy.

We apprehend no evils from the most perfect freedom of the press, by blasphemous or indecent publications. We have more confidence than the Mercury in the native good taste, religion and morality of the people, than to fear evil of any magnitude from this source. Even, as we before remarked, if the constitution be lame on this point, that fact gives no right to the judiciary nor to the legislature, to supply the defect. It can only be legally supplied by the power that framed the constitution, the people. If the power claimed for the courts really exist, the people of this State would hold their rights, of conscience and of the press, at the will of the judges, and not under the ægis of the constitution. To exhibit the hazard of such a tenure we cite the opinions of the three judges who tried Mr Kneeland for blasphemy, a case where there was no dispute about the facts. Judge THATCHER charged the jury that it was blasphemy to reproach Jesus Christ, the Holy Ghost, or the Bible, the holy Word of God, to reflect upon the Supreme Being, or the Christian Religion, or to represent the story of Jesus Christ as a fable, and his miracles as the tricks of an imposter, or to deny God.

Judge PUTNAM, said that the Atheist had a right to deny God, and make others believe his opinions if he could do so.

Judge WILD said that he had a right to deny the truths of Christianity. These opinions show how little safety there would be for the citizens when the opinion of the Bench is made the constitution. Our fathers left our rights on no such frail and uncertain contingencies, and the people will not surrender their rights on the dictum of lawless judges. If blasphemous works and grossly indecent pictures were to be published, where is the harm? No one is obliged to read, hear or see them, and if he chose to do so, whose business is it to interfere! We find none who fear their own strength of morals or principles, in reading such publications or in seeing such pictures; but many fear for their neighbors, and, like Judge THATCHER, would kindly keep what are called infidel sentiments, from "the poor and laboring classes," as though they had not as much native delicacy of taste, as much native honesty, morality, virtue and religion, as the rich and idle classes. Judge WILD would suppress, what he considers, the infidel creed, even if true, by law; these are his words, pronounced officially from the Bench, and published to the world—

"IF THEN THE INFIDEL'S CREED WERE TRUE, would it not be wise and for the good of society, to PROHIBIT THE PROMULGATION OF DOCTRINES so discouraging to virtuous exertion, and so fatal to human happiness, and which brings us down to a level with the brutes that perish."

Can there be any blasphemy so fatal to religion and morals as this sentiment? God is said to be all truth, and we should prize truth, as we reverence God, above all earthly things. What security have we for the religious faith of this Judge? May he not himself be an infidel, aye, an atheist? He would, it seems, not only protect, but enforce hypocrisy by law; and can we safely take the word of a hypocrite, can we confide in him in any important transaction? Yet we are called upon to reverence the Judiciary for their wisdom and virtue!

History attests that often, men devoid of religion and loose in morals have been the fiercest persecutors, and the most inexorable against those who disbelieved the established creed; and thousands of citizens have been burned at the stake for heresy, and blasphemy, and infidelity, terms synonymous with bigots, by the order of Judges who were themselves atheists and infidels, and what is worse, hypocrites. It was to quench forever, such terrible outrages upon humanity, such bloody fires of religious persecutions, the natural offspring of such principles, that our constitution says, "no man shall be hurt, molested or restrained in his person or estate" * * "for his religious sentiments or professions: provided he doth not disturb the public peace, or obstruct others in their religious worship." This generation will not permit the Judiciary to extinguish the light of our constitution, and kindle these fires of religious cruelty, under the pretence of supplying the moral and religious defects of our fundamental and written law.

In reference to the last part of the above paragraph from the Mercury, which says in effect, that a man would not have the same redress for a written as for spoken slander, and which sentiment, it contends, flows from our arguments, we do not admit the correctness of its inference. We have never denied, but have always stated, that libels, like slander, were private injuries, to be redressed by suits for damages by the parties aggrieved. If the Mercury take the opposite ground, it will recollect that it is its own, not our position. The distinction is, to our mind, a very clear and simple one between libels, as a crime and as a private injury, under our constitution. The constitution says, "the liberty of the press ought not to be restrained." That is, so far as the public are concerned, we grant to all the unrestrained rights and use of the press—nothing that you may say by the press, any more than by word of mouth, shall be a crime against the sovereign power, the State; but in the exercise of those rights, you must be guided by the inherent principle, existing before any written law, and coeval with society itself, not to invade the rights of your fellow, living under the protection of the same laws. If you do you must be answerable for that injury to him. In this view of the case, we are unable to see the inconsistency which seems so plain to the Mercury.

The Mercury further says:—

"The sixteenth article of our bill of rights says, 'the liberty of the press is essential to the security of freedom in a state; it ought not therefore to be restrained in this Commonwealth.'

"The Post contends that the infliction of punishment for the abuse of this liberty is tantamount to a restraint on the liberty itself, and therefore is unconstitutional.

"The first question then is, what did the framers of the constitution mean, when they said that the liberty of the press ought not to be restrained. What was the popular import of this form of language at the time when the people adopted it into the constitution?

"We say that it was then and always since, till the Post raised this question, understood to operate as a prohibition of any previous censorship of the press—it was meant to secure to every man the right of printing what he saw fit, subject to the judgment of a jury if he printed what was against public order and public morals."

This is but a repetition of Blackstone's definition of the liberty of the press; and we shew the value of his opinion in a former number, by quoting a part of his biography.

The constitution says nothing about the previous or after censorship of the press. It uses the phrase in an unqualified sense, embracing both the previous and after censorship, and as indictments for a libel are a restraint, they are unconstitutional. It makes no provision for the judgment of a jury, on what may be thought by them to be against public order and good morals, and if the framers of our constitution had intended to separate the freedom of the press from what is termed its licentiousness, its use from what is called its abuse, they would have said so, and would have done as some other states have done, so ordered it in the constitution. In the states where two kinds of liberty are secured by their constitutions, one unrestrained, the right to investigate the conduct of public officers—the other limited, the liberty to publish any matter, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty, an indictment at common law, for the exercise of the former right, was never heard of. It would not be entertained for a moment in any of those states. We have no right to suppose that the framers of our constitution meant otherwise than the plain import of their language. We have no right to search out for them an occult meaning. The Mercury cites the twenty-first article of the bill of rights, to sustain its arguments, in these words:—

"The freedom of deliberation, speech and debate, in either house of the legislature, is so essential to the rights of the people, that it cannot be the foundation of any accusation or prosecution, action or complaint, in any other court or place whatsoever."

This clause of the constitution is the one we should refer to for the very opposite purpose, to disprove the argument of the Mercury. The sixteenth article of the bill of rights declares "that the freedom of the press ought not to be restrained." This embraces the public rights, and means that no publication whatever ought or can be made a crime against the State. So far as it relates to individuals, it is limited by that natural and inherent principle, to which we have before alluded, requiring every member of society so to exercise his rights as not to invade those of his fellow. In legislative debate and deliberation, a matter pertaining to the liberty of speech, and not of the press, the constitution has deprived persons of any redress for whatever may be said against them, or about them, by a member of the legislature, in legislative deliberations. This does not conflict in the least with the provision securing the unrestrained liberty of the press, but it shows that the framers of the constitution meant to go to the utmost extent in securing the freedom of thought and of expression, where the public good required it. If this clause were not a part of the constitution, no member of the legislature could be indicted, and tried criminally, for a libel, for what he might say there. The party aggrieved by him would only have the right to sue for damages, the only legal remedy, we contend, that there exists for libels in any other case.

The Mercury goes from the constitution to the statute creating the Supreme Court.

By the terms of this act, which passed July 3, 1782, the court shall have—

"Cognizance of pleas, real, personal and mixed, and of all civil actions between party and party, and between the commonwealth and any subjects thereof, whether the same do concern the realty, and relate to freehold, inheritance or possession; whether the same do concern personalty, and relate to any matter, debt, contract, damages, or personal injury; and also all mixed actions which do concern the realty and personalty, BROUGHT LEGALLY BEFORE THE SAME SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, by appeal, review, writ of error, or otherwise; and in all such actions, real, personal, and mixed, to give such judgment, and award such execution, as the common rules of justice and the laws of the Commonwealth shall direct; and shall take cognizance of all capital and other offences and misdemeanors whatever, of a public nature, tending either to a breach of the peace, or the oppression of the subject, or raising of faction, controversy or debate, and of every crime whatsoever that is against the public good; and shall, by virtue of their office, be severally conservators of the public peace throughout the Commonwealth; and upon all persons duly and LEGALLY convited, before the said Court, of crimes, offences and misdemeanors, to inflict such punishment as by the laws of this Commonwealth is provided. And in case of LEGAL conviction, when no punishment by statute law is provided, then the said court shall punish the person so convicted, according to the common usage and practice of this Commonwealth, not repugnant to the constitution, according to the nature of the offence."

And on these extracts from the law the Mercury makes the following comment:—

"The court is clearly invested, by the act of 1782, with the power to punish all crimes, whether such as have previously occurred in the Province, or NEW CRIMES SUCH AS THERE EXISTS NO RECORDED PRECEDENT of prior to the adoption of the constitution."

In the first place, let it be remembered, that this statute gives the Supreme Court no authority to make law, they can try no civil cases but such as are "legally" brought before them, that is, brought before them by the authority of some known and existing law of this Commonwealth.—They can legally take cognizance of no acts, as crimes and misdemeanors, except such as are made crimes and misdemeanors by laws, by constitutional and legislative enactments. They have no right, by this statute, nor by any other law, to make "new crimes, such as there exists no recorded precedent of, prior to the adoption of the constitution." "JURISDICTION OF CRIMES AGAINST THE STATE IS NOT AMONG THE IMPLIED POWERS OF OUR COURTS." "COURTS CREATED BY WRITTEN LAW, AND WHOSE JURISDICTION IS DEFINED BY WRITTEN LAW, CANNOT TRANSCEND THAT JURISDICTION." No written law, nor the common or unwritten law, gives our courts jurisdiction over criminal libel law. The Mercury does not pretend that there is any statute law, under which Mr CHEEVER was convicted; and it admits that our judge law libel law is not the common law libel law of England. What right then had the Judiciary to enact and enforce it? They cannot by implication exercise jurisdiction of crimes; and our constitution expressly says that the judiciary shall not exercise legislative powers. How then are the trial and sentence of Mr CHEEVER other than illegal acts of daring judicial usurpation, warranted neither by constitutional law, statute law, nor common law.

The courts are clothed, by the acts of 1782, with a discretionary power to punish a person LEGALLY CONVICTED OF A CRIME, when the statute has omitted to affix a punishment thereto, according to the common usage and practice of this Commonwealth, not repugnant to the constitution, according to the nature of the offence. This does not authorize the cort to make the law by which an act becomes a crime. The law must emanate from the legislative department, the person sentenced must be convicted according to this law, or he is not "legally" convicted, and then, if no punishment by statute law is provided, the court may sentence the person so convicted, that is LEGALLY convicted, according to the common usage and practice of THIS COMMONWEALTH, NOT REPUGNANT TO THE CONSTITUTION." The sentence to imprisonment for a libel, when it was adopted here, by our Supreme Court, was NOT according to the common usage and practice in this Commonwealth, and it WAS "REPUGNANT TO THE CONSTITUTION," which says "the liberty of the press ought not to be restrained." It is English law, not Massachusetts law, and the Supreme Court would have just as much right to punish according to Russian law, French law, Turkish law, or Algerine law, as they had to punish according to English law. In fact an Algerine judge would scorn such law and such justice as our bench make and administer.

The Mercury further says—

"The liberty of the press and the right to bear arms for the common defence are alike guaranteed by the constitution; but this guarantee does not extend to the abuse of either privilege."

In a former number we stated that the liberty of the press was an unrestrained liberty—the right to bear arms was a limited liberty "to keep and bear arms for the common defence." Will the Mercury pretend that our judiciary would have a right, without a statute law for it, to try a man for bearing arms to shoot a partridge, and inflict upon him the punishment of imprisonment therefor?—This is not bearing arms for the common defence, but for private pleasure or benefit, and the court has the same right, that is, no right at all, to make this act a crime, as to make a libel a crime.

The constitution guarantees alike to the citizen the unrestrained liberty of the press, and the right to keep and bear arms for the common defence. Would the legislature have a right, in times of invasion and danger, to disarm our citizens, to fine and imprison them for keeping and bearing arms for the common defence? Would the judiciary have a right, at common law, or under the statute of 1782, to try, fine, and imprison a man for keeping and bearing arms for the common defence, under the pretence that he was abusing the right? Surely they would not at this time dare attempt such an usurpation, and yet it would not be a greater one than their law of libel, which they have stole upon us.

The Mercury further says—

"All offences unprovided for by statute, and libels among the rest, come under the jurisdiction of our Supreme Court."

We deny this assumption entirely. According to the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, before quoted, and what is better, according to the principles of common sense, and the provisions of our constitution, they have no implied jurisdiction of crimes. We know the court have assumed and have exercised the power here claimed; it is the very cause of complaint under discussion, but in exercising these powers, they have violated the constitution, and outraged the principles of ordinary justice. The constitution declares that "the judicial shall never exercise the legislative and executive powers, or either of them; to the end it may be a government of laws and not of men." In assuming jurisdiction of crimes, or what the court is pleased to call crimes, unprovided for by statute, it assumes legislative functions, which are forbidden by the constitution. Not only this, but in all such first convictions, first assumptions of jurisdiction, the law is ex post facto in its operation, and therefore in violation of the twenty-fourth article of the bill of rights, in these words—

"Laws made to punish for actions done before the existence of such laws, and which have not been declared crimes by preceding laws, are unjust, oppressive, and inconsistent with the fundamental principles of a free government."

The tenth article of the bill of rights declares that—

"Each individual of society has a right to be protected by it, in the enjoyment of his life, liberty, and property, according to standing laws." * * * *

"IN FINE, THE PEOPLE OF THIS COMMONWEALTH ARE NOT CONTROLLABLE BY ANY OTHER LAWS, THAN THOSE TO WHICH THEIR CONSTITUTIONAL REPRESENTATIVE BODY HAVE GIVEN THEIR ASSENT."

This cuts off every pretence for bringing into use common law, and particularly foreign common law, either in civil or criminal cases, except such common law, as was "usually practiced in the courts of law in" this State, that is, such common law as was well known to the people to be law, at the adoption of the constitution. It is absurd to say that we took, as British colonists, the whole body and code of the English common law, because with it we should have had the trial by battle, duels under the authority of the bench, a part of the common law; and we should still have it, although it has been abolished in England within the last dozen years, by act of Parliament, unless we agree that an act of the British Parliament, in these cases, can now, as claimed before the revolution, bind us in all cases whatsoever. We took, in fact, none of the common law of England, at the adoption of the constitution, but such as was known to be law here, "and usually practiced in the courts of law" in this state at that time. No other common law could be ever after introduced by our Judiciary except in utter violation of the several provisions of the constitution before quoted. The Mercury further says—

"Had this question continued as it commenced, in the shape of a plea for Mr Kneeland, it would hardly have been worth while to argue it at length; but the feeling recently excited by the sentence of Mr Cheever, threatened a wider diffusion of this doctrine, and made it particularly important that its true bearings and basis should be exhibited to the community."

It pains us to see such a sentiment advanced. The Mercury, then, avows that it regards the law, not as a matter of general principle, but according to its individual application. The law may be perverted to oppress Mr KNEELAND, to doom him to an infamous punishment; and because he is supposed to be weak, and unable to resist oppression, and his doctrines are odious in the eyes of the Mercury, it would hardly be worth while to argue his case at length!" It would pass by his groans from the dungeon, his wrongs and his complaints, with cold indifference or silent, malignant scorn; but when the more powerful and influential Mr CHEEVER is heard to cry for justice, it will condecend to argue the case at length. We fear the feelings of the Mercury pervaded the breasts of the Judges who tried Mr KNEELAND. Such we assure the Mercury are not our feelings. Unacquainted both with Mr CHEEVER and Mr KNEELAND, we come forward, not as their personal friend, nor to vindicate their tenets or principles, but to defend their rights; and thus to vindicate the rights of the whole people; to make an honest effort to restore to their full force, vigour and supremacy, the violated and outraged laws of this Commonwealth.—We have neither personal, party nor sectarian views to accomplish; and we regret to see the Mercury waste its talent, and it certainly evinces much talent in the article we have here reviewed, in attempting to sustain the odious doctrine of the libel law, by making it appear to bear a sectarian and party character.

From Liverpool.—The ship Liverpool, Capt. Dickson, arrived at this port yesterday morning from Liverpool, having left on the 25th, and bringing dates from Liverpool and London, one day later than by the Napoleon at New York. We are indebted to the Messrs. Topliff for a Liverpool paper of the 25th, and a London paper of the 24th, which contain nothing of much interest.

The London Times of the 24th Dec. says that it had been suspected that M. Durand, the French Consul in Warsaw, was the reporter of the Emperor's Speech, and it was understood that official explanations had been applied for to the French Minister, accompanied with a direct intimation that should his instrumentality be made out, the Imperial exequator in favor of him would be withdrawn.

The Liverpool Mercury of the 25th says the Duc de Broglie is said to have addressed a circular to all the diplomatic agents of France, denying that the manifestoes of the Journal des Debats proceeded from the government, but at the same time expressing with dignity the sense entertained by the French government of the conduct of Russia towards Poland. The rage of Nicholas is said to have been great, but kept in check. Orders had been sent to Berlin to M. de Barante, ordering that envoy to proceed on his journey.

The London Courier of Dec. 23d says—We are happy to learn from Paris, on good authority, that the dispute between France and the U. States is likely to be accommodated. We have always hoped and expected such a result, from the good sense of the statesmen of both countries.

The Indicateur of Bordeaux of the 16th December, mentions a rumor that Mina had overtaken and completely defeated the Carlists in a sanguinary battle, but has no particulars. The Christino army occupies the whole line from Pampeluna to Vittora. The siege of St. Sebastian had been abandoned by the Carlists.

Gen Mina's force was so ample that he ordered no more enlistments to be made.

Mr O'Connel has been applied to by some of the State prisoners in France to defend them before the Chamber of Peers, and has declined in consequence of not being able to speak French fluently.

The Journal of Commerce of Monday morning, thus speaks of the letter from Columbus, Ohio, alluded to in yesterday's Post:—

"We hope it will turn out that the above letter was written in more than needful alarm. Another letter of the same date, with which we are favored is much more calm. It says, considerable excitement existed in town owing to a report that a skirmish had taken place with 15 or 20 Indians, about 15 miles below, and from 3 to 400 men were under arms preparing for the defence of the place.—The writer did not think there was any danger to be apprehended, but that there would be an interruption to business for some days, until the excitement had passed off. At Fort Mitchel there were some regular troops and a good supply of arms and ammunition. There had nothing, up to the 26th been discovered which shewed any hostile intention, on the part of the Creeks as a body.

A Macon paper of January 28th, says, "the latest accounts from Florida are very unfavorable; over the whole country east of the Suwanee River, the merciless Indians, lord it in bloody triumph."

Breach of Promise Damages.—In the case of Margaret Dinsmore against Andrix A. Foster, for breach of promise of marriage, decided in the Supreme Court on Tuesday, the jury gave $250 damages. This action was originally brought in the Court of Common Pleas fifteen months ago, and the jury then gave Miss Dinsmore only $50 damages. From this verdict, Foster imprudently appealed, and five hundred dollars will hardly pay the difference between the two verdicts, although nominally it is but $200. S. D. Parker, Esq. counsel for Miss Dinsmore, and Peleg Sprague, Esq for Mr Foster.

Doughty's New Landscape Picture is probably the best painting ever executed by an American Artist in his own country. Its beauties are too perfect and varied for us to attempt to describe them, but can be seen by all who desire to view them, by calling at Mr D's room in Washington street. We congratulate Mr D. upon his success—the efforts of his genius are honorable to his country, as well as himself.

Indian Eloquence.—At the time the French possessed the Canadas, they applied to one of the powerful Indian chiefs to cede to them a portion of his land. He declined the proposal in the following lofty and sententious manner:—

"On this soil we were born; here our fathers are buried. Can we say to the bones of our fathers, arise and go with us to another land?"

The Atlas speaks of the "Philosopher Pluto, and Plato the god of gold." The young aristocracy, who patronise that paper, and also have "all the learning and all the talents," will no doubt admire the classic erudition of its editors, and the beauty and correctness of their mythological allusions.

"Paul Pry" thinks that the country banks require the attention of the Legislative Committee as well as the city banks. He says:—

"One country bank at least shows by its last return that it has exceeded the limits of its charter."

The editor of the Springfield Republican thinks that we ought, under certain circumstances, to be banished from the society of civilized men. The greatest regret we should experience at a doom so dreadful, would be that it would not secure us from his intrusion.

Two children were frozen to death in Philadelphia on Wednesday last, in consequence of the arrest of their mother for attempting to purloin sufficient wood to prevent her offspring from perishing with cold.

"What do you think, Mr Bass, of the accident in Bromfield street?" said a gentleman to the notorious punster the other day. "Think," replied B., "why, that it was enough to cause another Shay's rebellion."

MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate.—Bills to extend the time for paying in the capital stock of the North American Insurance Company—to incorporate the Mount Holyoke Female Seminary,—severally passed to be enacted

The consideration of the amendment to the bill to increase the capital stock of the Boston and Lowell Railroad corporation, was resumed, but before the question was taken the Senate adjourned.

In the House.—Mr Carter of Lancaster, presented the petition of Gabriel H Thompson, for a grant to enable him to publish his discovery of the Quadrature of the Circle, and moved its reference to the committee on Education—referred.

The Bill relating to witnesses was further debated, but no question was taken upon it. It was opposed in a long speech by Mr Mosely, of Newburyport, and supported by Messrs Robinson, Pinkham, and Lucas. Mr Rantoul has the floor for to-morrow.

The bill to amend the Revised Statutes, and to supply certain omissions therein was read a third time, and passed to be engrossed.

It was ordered on motion of Mr Ames of Coventry, that the committee on Railways and Canals, be instructed to inquire into the expediency of making an appropriation for further surveys for internal improvements within this State, to be made under the supervision of the executive.

Bank Investigating Committee.—Eighth Session.—The President and Officers of the Granite Bank were examined yesterday afternoon, and stated that the bank had been in the habit of dealing in exchange. Mr Joseph Jackson testified that in one instance, in January last, on a transaction of $1050, the bank first deducted the legal interest, then charged him one and a half per cent. exchange on a draft, and then a premium of one per cent. for a check on New Orleans. This check was again cashed at the Merchants' Bank for one and a half per cent. interest—making the interest, direct and indirect, to amount to four and a half per cent. a month.

The President, Cashier, &c. of the South Bank were next examined. Mr Preston, the President, stated that in October last, they commenced dealing in exchange, because they could not make a dividend by the ordinary loans at 6 per cent. In giving drafts, they first deducted the legal six per cent., which they called "interest" and then charged 3 per cent. for the draft, which they "called profit." Five individuals had paid this amount—about the time the Bank Investigating order was introduced into the House, this 3 per cent. was paid back to the borrowers. Mr Loring, the Cashier, said, without the least attempt at equivocation, that "the draft was only nominal, and used merely as a vehicle for obtaining nine per cent. on the whole loan." He said the "introduction of the Order into the House lead the bank to think more seriously upon the legality of taking the 6 per cent. interest, and also the 3 per cent. profit." Three of the five persons to whom the 3 per cent. "profit" was paid back were directors of the bank. The bank paid interest on deposits, and issued its own bills on interest not to be put into circulation—it was considered an affair of honor—and deemed dishonorable to put them into circulation, before the expiration of the time agreed on.

Congress.—In the Senate, Friday, Feb. 5.—Mr Benton reported a bill from the Select Committee to which had been referred that portion of the President's special message on the subject of military preparation—which was read and ordered to a second reading. Mr Benton gave notice that he would ask the Senate to take up the bill early next week, with a view to its final passage.

Mr Tipton submitted the following:

Resolved, That the Committee on Military Affairs be instructed to inquire whether the Army is sufficiently numerous for the duties they are required to perform, and for the occupation of our various Forts.

Resolved, also, That the same Committee inquire and report to the Senate whether in their opinion, the pay and emoluments to the Officers of the Army, is sufficient compensation for the services they are required to perform.

Between two and three hundred U. S. troops, under command of Major Gates, marched into Baltimore on Wednesday evening, and embarked on board the brig Arctic, for Savannah on Thursday: destination, Florida.

Smith, the stage driver, who robbed the mail, between Zanesville and Maysville, has been sentenced by the U. S. Court at Columbus, Ohio, to ten years in the penitentiary.

We understand that application was made at our various Marine Insurance offices, on Saturday, for insurance of specie from Havre to the United States on government account.—N. Y. Times.

The New Bedford Gazette says—"The violence of the weather has not only locked our harbor but also the most of Buzzard's Bay. A whale ship is said to be now at anchor in Tarpaulin Cove, but no information respecting her is at hand."

☞The Sunday Morning News says, that an extensive southern mail contractor has been arrested for a long continued system of depredations upon the mails of his route.

High Rents.—The N. Y. Star says that "many of the stores in Broad, Pine and Liberty streets, are renting at from three to ten thousand dollars!"

A fire took place in New York on Sunday morning, which destroyed the following buildings, viz:—Nos. 255, 257, 259, 261 and 263 on Houston street—Nos 105, 107, 109, 111, 113, 115, 117 and 119 on First street.

Mr. Barrymore's Benefit this evening at the Lion Theatre, will be a splendid affair The bill of entertainment is full of attraction, and his appeal will be responded to by an immense audience, undoubtedly.

☞Beware of the petition for the TEN MILLION MONSTER which is being circulated about the city—it is a chick of the old hen.

BOSTON ACADEMY OF PENMANSHIP AND BOOK-KEEPING,
No. 2 Amory Hall.
(Corner of Washington and West streets.)

MESSRS. RICHARDSON & STRATTON, having associated themselves in business, for the purpose of instruction in Penmanship, Book Keeping and Arithmetic, beg leave to offer the citizens of Boston and the public generally a prospectus of the course pursued by them.

PENMANSHIP.

Messrs Richardson & Stratton, are both so well known to the Boston public, as teachers of Penmanship, and have taught that art with so much success in this city, that it will perhaps be unnecessary to say any thing further of their system of instruction, the merits of which are so universally acknowledged. For the information, however, of persons who reside at a distance, and may be desirous of being taught the above branches, they beg leave to add, that the system is simple and natural, and will readily remove that stiffness of the arm and fingers which is so embarrassing, and which other professors have heretofore almost entirely failed to accomplish.

BOOK-KEEPING.

In the department of Book-Keeping, Messrs. R. & S. have had much personal experience, and have also derived valuable information from several eminent merchants of this city, which enables them to combine the elementary instructions of the master, with the practical improvements of the merchant. They propose to initiate young gentlemen, who are about entering upon Commercial Business, not to teach merchants. They do not pretend to have made any new inventions or discoveries, but will, in all cases follow the most approved precedents of mercantile experience, and give their pupils such practice, as will enable them, when they arrive at the Counting house, to transact business with precision and despatch.

Terms in the above branches may be known by application at their room.

Classes in session morning, afternoon and evening.

DR. PHELPS' ARCANUM.—This Syrup is celebrated for the Cure of Scrofula, Eruptions or Diseases of the skin, Syphilis or Venereal Complaints, Rheumatism, Ulcers in the Throat and other parts of the Body, Mercurial Affections, Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Blood, Deep seated pains in the Muscles, Bones, &c. and a regenerator of emaciated and broken Constitutions, caused by disease, intemperance, &c.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Having been made acquainted with the medical qualities and witnessed the effects of "Dr Phelps' Arcanum," I feel much confidence in saying it is a preparation of medicine greatly superior to any thing of the kind, in curing those chronic diseases for which it is intended, and recommend it to invalids in preference to any other article whatever.
SAMUEL L. MITCHELL, M. D.

New York, March 25, 1830.

My knowledge of the properties and operation of the "Arcanum of Dr Phelps," justify me in saying that it is far superior to any depurative syrup with which I am acquainted. In the most obstinate and ambiguous deseases, it displays effects peculiarly surprising. In those affections that resist the skill of the physician, such as Rheumatism, Syphilis, Scrofula, Ulcerations, and Diseases of the Skin, &c., I would recommend it as worthy of great confidence. JOHN D. GODMAN, M. D.

Philadelphia. Nov. 27, 1829.

For the last few years I have suffered excessively by a Billious Mercurial Disease, which has rendered me frequently unfit for duty, and confined me as often to my berth. My disease was the sequela of bad treatment, while in the more tropical latitudes, and laboring under an acute inflamation of the liver, and other Billiary organs. Prior and pubsequently to our arrival in this port, I have had recourse to a great variety of prescriptions, medicines and nostrums—among which, were a number of bottles of Swaim's Panacea, Potter's Catholicon, the Rob of Laffecteur, &c., but without any benefit.—Dr Phelps being at that time a student of medicine in the University of Pennsylvania, advised me to make use of a newly discovered medicine, the Arcanum, which he believed would suceed in relieving me, in consequence of the very signal effects himself and others had observed in its operation in various glandular diseases, that were otherwise considered incurable. I commenced its use accordingly, and it affords me pleasure to state, that for several months past, not a vestige of the original or secondary disease has been discoverable. I prize the medicine above all others with which I have ever been acquainted. It is both pleasant and I believe certain it its effects, as a remedy in a variety of chronic diseases, incident to tropical and other climates. J. ANDREWS, Purser of the Columbian Brig Pinchinca.

Philadelphia, Jan. 5, 1835.

SAVANNAH, 6th March, 1831.

GENT.—I cannot refrain from expressing my gratitude to you in offering me a bottle of Dr PHELPS' ARCANUM, as an experiment in my case of Rheumatism. I have been dreadfully afflicted for upwards of twelve months, and for the last four or five months have scarcely been able to walk. I have used a dozen bottles of Swaim's Panacea, and found very little benefit from it. After taking the bottle of Arcanum, I found such a change in my whole system, that I was induced to try another, and to my surprise, the pains in my legs all disappeared, and the Ulcers in one have completely healed up, and I can walk nearly as well as ever. I shall continue to take two bottles more, and firmly believe it will make a complete cure of my disease. I remain, gentlemen, yours very respectfully,
JNO. MORRALL.

Messrs Lay & Hendrickson, Druggists, Savannah, (Geo.)

Extract of a letter from Dr Jones, a highly respectable physician, dated Baton Rogue, Louisiana, Dec. 28, 1833.—The Arcanum had two powerful competitors, Swaim's Panacea, and Potter's Catholicon, which have been for years in circulation in this place. As far as I have had an opportunity of ascertaining its virtues, I believe the Arcanum to be superior to any article of the kind, yet offered to the public. I prescribed it in a case of Irritable Ulcer of three years standing, situated on the Malleolus Extrenus—the individual thus afflicted was much emaciated and debilitated,—after one week's attendance, I put him upon the Arcanum, following the directions three bottles nearly effected a cure of the ulcer and bodily health.

I prescribed it in several Mercurial and Syphilitic Affections, where it proved salutary. I am at this time trying the Arcanum on an individual, who has been laboring under Ulcerous affections of one of his legs, for fifteen years,—he has taken 1 bottle only, and it has produced that effect, he is sanguine in the belief, it will effect a permanent cure.

INDIGESTION, JAUNDICE AND BILIOUS COMPLAINTS. ANDERSON'S VEGETABLE ELIXIR, for Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Jaundice and Bilious Complaints; weakness of the Stomach and Bowels, and consequent loss of appetite; nervous complaints, headach, sour stomach, flatulence and habitual costiveness.

This medicine is composed entirely of vegetable substances is perfectly safe in its operation, and may be given to children or persons of the most delicate habit, without the least risk of inconvenience.

The uniform success which has attended the use of it where it has been extensively used, in Boston and various other parts of the United States, and in the West Indies, attested by disinterested and highly respectable persons, affords, next to a trial of the medicine itself, the best commentary upon its virtues, and the best recommendation which can be offered to those who are unacquainted with it.

Extract of a letter received from a gentleman in Boston, who had suffered severely from indigestion for three years. 'During this time, I suffered very much from mental depression, constant pain in the head and breast, and side, sharp shooting pain over almost the whole system—the food that I ate seemed to pass into my lungs and there remain, giving me great pain astended with a strong degree of heat. At times, I suffered so much from the pain of indigestion as to be confined to the bed for two or three days. During one of these most severe attacks I was induced by the advice of a friend to try your Vegetabl Medicine. In the course of a few weeks I found myself much better, and by the time I had taken two bottles, considered myself wholly free from the complaint. I continue, on the least feeling of any thing like indigestion or pressure on the stomach, to take about a table spoonful of it, which, in the course of a few hours, completely restores me. It has had with me a very wonderful effect, in strengthening the stomach and invigorating the whole system, and judging by my own case, I consider it in all diseases connected with the digestive organs, to be a very valuable medicine.

It has been found singularly efficacious in cases of the most obstinate headache.

It is put up in large bottles containing a pound and a half and sold at seventy-five cents each, by Jonathan P. Hall, Jr., No. 1, Union street, John P. Whitwell, Milk street, John I. Brown, near Boylston Market, Erastus S. Holden, near the Western Avenue, Richard A. Newell, Summer street, Boston; Samuel Kidder & Co. Charlestown, E. G. Lemon, Roxbury.

It is sure to give immediate relief, and a healthy action to the living parts, and we can hardly conceive of a fracture or wound so bad as to cause death, or need amputation, if the Paste be timely and properly applied. It needs no certificates—use it, and you will know more of it than can be told you.

ADAMS'S PATENT

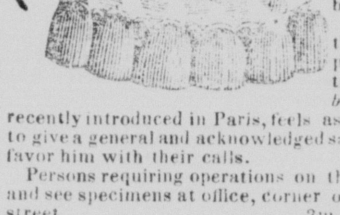

SWELLED BEAM

THE subscriber has on hand a good assortment of the Swelled Beam Windlass Bedsteads, which, for comfort and convenience is undoubtedly the best article yet invented; its chief peculiarity is that of the Swelled Beam, the effect of which is to produce a crowning, and elastic sacking, and effectually provides against its saging. They are easily set up or taken down, and may be saved in case of fire as easily as any other piece of furniture, and from its mode of construction less liable to harbor insects than any other kind; but above all its advantages is the ease and comfort obtained from the sacking, by means of its being made and kept elastic by means of the Swelled Beam, (the form of which is exhibited in the above cut.)

Orders thankfully received, and promptly attended to

THOMSONIAN BOTANIC INFIRMARY, No 554, Washington-street, BOSTON, Opposite the Worcester Rail Road Ticket Office.—The subscriber would inform his friends and the public, that he has taken that large and spacious Infirmary above named, and formerly occupied by Dr Brown and himself—that he has fitted it up in a style not surpassed by any other in the State for convenience and comfort: the rooms are large and airy, and command a fine prospect of the Worcester and Providence Rail Roads and the surrounding country on the West—Boston Harbor, its islands, shipping, light houses, &c. on the East, with the most pure air of any part of the city. The subscriber is also determined that nothing shall be wanting through every department of his Infirmary as to neatness and regularity, good order, the best of nursing and attention, to make every one who favors him with their patronage happy and contented. He has also a valuable library of the best selected books for the instruction and amusement of his patients. He has also in readiness clean changes of linen for all patients who come to take single courses of medicine, and India Rubber coverings for the mattrasses and beds he always uses to prevent contagion. His steam boxes have windows with curtains, so that patients who are feeble can at any time put out their heads and breathe fresh air. The boilers are so constructed that he can at any moment graduate the steam to suit their wish or ability to bear, so that there is not the least danger to the most feeble constitution, not even for an infant of a month old. The shower of two quarts of cold water is delicious, though we never insist on it, as it is always a matter of choice with the patients, and a person who has once taken it will never after be denied, but will frequently call for more. The said subscriber has owned Dr Samuel Thomson's family right nearly three years, has given strict attention to its precepts, and for the five last months has administered pure Thomsonian medicine to over two hundred persons, many of whom suffered under the most desperate complaints, and had been given over to die by the regular physicians—and such has been his success, that out of the whole number every individual except two persons have been relieved, and more than three fourths cured who have left his Infirmary, one only having died at the Infirmary. He will still continue to administer Thomsonian Medicines in their purity at his Infirmary, assisted by Dr Darling in all difficult cases, who has been a regular Practitioner of the Thomsonian System for more than fourteen years in this city. Mrs. Badger will attend to the Ladies department at all time—she having been an experienced nurse over eighteen years, a part of which time she was nurse in the Massachusetts General Hospital, since in private families, and for the two last years a strict Thomsonian nurse. The subscriber would respectively invite the afflicted of all descriptions to call and examine for themselves, and if they should see fit to put themselves under his care, let their disease be what it may, if timely application be made, he will ensure a speedy relief.

N B. For sale at the above establishment, a general assortment of pure Thomsonian Medicines, done up with directions for use, at wholesale and retail.
